A Living Tribute to your Loved Ones

Have you ever experienced the deep sadness that comes from having left something unsaid to a loved one? Have you wished you had had that one more opportunity to say “I love you?” Have you ever thought you would like to be a “fly on the wall” at your own memorial service to hear how your life made a difference?

Make it happen! Today is the day to create a loving, living tribute to your loved one.

A Celebration Circle is a gathering of family and friends to share stories and experiences with our loved ones while they are still with us. They get to hear, “My life is different because you ____” They get to hear, “Your presence made a difference in the world.”

You will participate in an action group that will take you from concept to completion of your first Celebration Circle. Join with others who share your passion of wanting to create this final tribute for your loved ones while they are still alive. You will be guided step by step, as I hold your hand through the process. You will also have the added bonus of the support, insights, ideas, and sharing of your action group via conference telephone calls.

4 CEU hours available:

Licensed Professional Counselors, Provider #5418

Social Worker, Provider #1057

Next Action Group via conference call forming now.
